MISCELLANEOUS.

"German Syrup"

A Throat and Lung Specialty.

Those who have not used Boschee's German Syrup for some severe and chronic trouble of the Throat and Lungs can hardly appreciate what a truly wonderful medicine it is. The delicious sensations of healing, easing, clearing, strength-gathering and recovering are unknown joys. For German Syrup we do not ask easy cases. Sugar and water may smooth a throat or stop a tickling—for a while. This is as far as the ordinary cough medicine goes. Boschee's German Syrup is a discovery, a great Throat and Lung Specialty. Where for years there have been sensitiveness, pain, coughing, spitting, hemorrhage, voice failure, weakness, slipping down hill, where doctors and medicine and advice have been swallowed and followed to the gulf of despair, where there is the sickening conviction that all is over and the end is inevitable, there we place German Syrup. It cures. You are a live man yet if you take it.

The Standard Trotting Stallion,

ROMEYN 6256

Will make the season of 1891, from April 1st to July 1st, at—

ROMEYN'S STABLE, NORTH SIERRA ST., RENO, NEVADA.

Description and Pedigree:

ROMEYN 6256 was foaled 1884, stands 16½ hands high, weighs 1,150 pounds, and is a horse of magnificent conformation. He captured the State Fair premium at Sacramento in 1889, as a standard bred two-year-old stallion, against one of the finest shows of horses ever held in the West. He is a beautiful dark bay with dark points. He is remarkably intelligent of good disposition and spirited. He is well boned and muscled up, speedy and game; qualities which he imparts to his progeny.

ROMEYN 6256 is by Mambrino Wilkes 6088 (sire of Gus Wilkes, 2:27; Alpheus, 2:27; Balkan, 2:26½; Bay Wilkes, 2:30 and Clara P., 2:29½), he by George Wilkes 619, record 2:29 (sire of Harry Wilkes, 2:15½; Gay Wilkes, 2:15½; Mike Wilkes, 2:16½; Wilcox, 2:16; Wilson, 2:16½; So So, 2:17½; J. B. ### TWO DAYS.

I crossed a daisied field, the skies were fair;
The lark sang stretched green arms over-head;
The sun shone gold dust thro' the April air,
And a glad brook leaped down its pebbled bed.

The meadow lark sang but such liquid notes,
My happy soul stood still and tried to hear;
The wild canvas backed their yellow coats,
And turned their restless heads in jealous fear.

And, oh, my heart was glad, for it was spring,
Blue, blue the dappled skies that swung about;
But still more glad my soul, remembering
The world was sweet to me because of love.

I crossed a lonely field, the skies were gray,
The winds crept in from sea with eulion moans;
Ice locked, ice bound, the brook grieved night and day
Above the hollow sound of falling cones

With drumming wings the mottled pheasant flew,
The ghostly flocks reached barren arms across,
And, oh, my heart was sad—so well I knew
The winter world was dull because of loss.

—Ella Higginson in West Shore.

An Amusing Scene in Court.

One of the most amusing yet unexpected sensation scenes ever witnessed in a theatre occurred at the Theatre Royal, Manchester. The curtain drew up for Mr. Toole to address the court in re Bardell vs. Pickwick, when the whole of the jury mysteriously disappeared, their "box" suddenly giving way and ingulfing the "good men and true."

At first the vast audience who crowded every part of the theatre were silent, fearing some dreadful accident had occurred, but as the unlucky jurymen rapidly reappeared, unhurt, though looking very foolish, they broke out into a perfect hurricane of laughter, which lasted several minutes.

The curtain had to be dropped to allow the jury to be "boxed" again, and when Mr. Toole began his address he provoked another burst of merriment by alluding to the jury as "that worthy body of steadfast and immovable men."

A peculiarly amusing feature of this novel scene was the fact that the majority of the "jury" were stage carpenters, whose duty it was to erect the "court," and they suffered in this case for their own carelessness.—London Tit-Bits.

Riding the Wooden Horse.

Torture on a grand scale went out with Pelton, the assassin of Buckingham, but torture on a small scale continued to be practiced on military offenders down to the Eighteenth century. The form most frequently resorted to was that known as the wooden horse, to ride which was the punishment accorded for petty thefts, insubordination, and so on. The wooden horse was made of planks nailed together so as to form a sharp ridge or angle about eight or nine feet long. This ridge represented the back of the horse, and was supported by four posts or legs about five feet high, placed on a stand made movable by trucks. To complete the resemblance with the noblest animal in creation a head and tail were added.

When a soldier was sentenced, either by court martial or by his commanding officer, to ride the horse, he was placed on the brute's back, with his hands tied behind him, and frequently enough, in order to increase the pain, muskets were fastened to his legs to weigh them down or, as was jocularly said, to prevent the fiery, untamed, barebacked steed from kicking him off.—London Graphic.

Questioned Her Motive.

The following fragment of a conversation caught on an elevated train seemed to possess certain claims to consideration: "And Miss L. is as good as she is clever," commented one man to another; "I've known her more than once to choke down a bright speech which would beat the expense of a companion." "How did you know it was a bright speech?" questioned the second man. "Because she made it later, when the companion could not overhear it." "Humph," replied the other and elder man, "and when the companion could not reply to it." After which a silence fell.—Her Point of View in New York Times.

Studio Amenities.

"There's one thing about you, D'Arber; that I can't understand," said Scumble. "What is that, old fellow?" "That with your unequalled taste in art you should have such a large collection of your own pictures."—Puck.

How Mark Twain Seems.

The opinions of our serving folks are sometimes worth knowing. At the Murray Hill hotel the other day one of the porters remarked: "There goes the solemnest and dullest gent as ever stopped at this 'ouse. I don't believe he ever knewed what it was to lurf."

The subject of this depressing and melancholy criticism was Samuel L. Clemens, Esq., of Hartford, Conn., not unknown to admirers of serious and instructive literature as Mark Twain.—New York World.

Finger Nail Jewelry.

A San Francisco modeler of statuary has a set of short and cuff studs made of Chinese finger nails set in gold. He points with pride at his exclusive possessions, which are made of a Chinaman's finger nail which was four inches long when cut. The nail in the studs presents a shiny appearance and is susceptible to changes in the weather. Their owner claims that they were successfully used by him as a weather barometer when he first got them, but their usefulness in this direction had been lost through age.—San Francisco Letter.

FACTS NOT FALSEHOODS

The JOURNAL some days ago commented on a statement made in the San Francisco Post, and, by the way, copied without comment in the Enterprise, that H. M. Yerington, the Nevada railroad and mining man, said mining was never more prosperous in Nevada than it is now. This seems to have touched the Enterprise in a tender place, as it says:

"The JOURNAL would rather belittle its own State than miss an opportunity of attacking one of the men who works in its interest."

The JOURNAL in its comments on what the Post attributed to Mr. Yerington attacked no one. It simply stated facts which the Comstock adulterator does not deny. How much more manly it would be for the Enterprise to show that mining is more prosperous, if such is the fact, than ever before, than to resort to falsehood and misrepresentation in its eagerness to appear as the servile sycophant of a man who is credited with having too much common sense to mistake flattery for argument.

The JOURNAL has no disposition to personally attack Mr. Yerington or anybody else, and if it had occasion to do so it would not belittle the State nor, as the Enterprise does in attacking the JOURNAL, make an assertion that is maliciously false.

PULLMAN CAR TAXES.

The Supreme Court of the United States has rendered a decision in the case involving the constitutionality and validity of the law of Pennsylvania taxing the Pullman Palace Car Company on a basis proportionate to the number of miles of railroad within the State over which the company's cars run compared with the total number of miles of railroad over which the cars are run. The Court holds that the law is constitutional and not in violation of the Interstate Commerce Act.

According to this decision Pullman cars running between San Francisco and Ogden over the Central Pacific Railroad, a distance of 833 miles, would be taxable in Nevada for over one-half of their value, the length of the railroad in this State being 448 miles. Possibly, however, the Act creating the State Board of Assessors and Equalization may be construed to exempt those cars from taxation in Nevada.

IOWA FARMERS MOVING.

The Iowa farmers are making arrangements to put a ticket in the field this year. An election for Governor and other State officers will be held next November, and the Farmers' Independent party will probably be the first to nominate a ticket. It purposes holding a State Convention in June and to ignore all existing parties. The call for a convention says the time has arrived when the friends of industrial reform should associate themselves for independent political action without regard to former political affiliations.

The Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union, Farmers' Mutual Benefit Association, State Grange, Knights of Labor and all industrial organizations are invited to send representatives to the Convention, not as representing organizations but as individuals.

GOLD EXPORTS.

The exports of specie from New York last week amounted to $7,492,000, of which $7,239,000 was gold and $253,000 silver. The World says the gold shipments have been rarely exceeded in a like period and they gave the bears an opportunity to turn things their way. It was not so much the amount exported that sent a chill through Wall Street as the mystery surrounding the movement and the indefiniteness as to the causes which led up to it.

Since the close of March the exports of gold and silver approximate $25,000,000 and many bankers are of the opinion that the shipments are forced, in other words, that the foreigners suffer a loss to get the gold and that the whole thing resolves itself into an exchange operation.

The Director of the Mint says no uneasiness need be felt because of the gold exports, as the United States has more gold on hand at this time than any other country.

It is reported that the appointment of ex-Senator Blair as Minister to China is to be revoked to please the despot of the Celestial Empire and that Charles W. Palmer, President of the World's Fair, is to be appointed to succeed him. A few years ago it would have aroused much indignation on the Pacific Coast to revoke the appointment of a person appointed Minister to China because he advocated the exclusion of Chinese, but now it scarcely causes comment.

A Decrease in the Payment of Pensions. Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Commissioner Raum has written to Secretary Noble calling attention to the very material decrease in payments on account of pensions during the present fiscal year. The entire payments for army pensions during the present fiscal year will not exceed $110,000,000. The total appropriation was $125,763,093, and it now seems probable that there will be left of this appropriation at the end of the fiscal year $9,769,000.

Decrease in the Payment of Pensions.—The California Board of Examiners Getting Economical.

THE CALIFORNIA BOARD OF EXAMINERS.

They Refuse to Pay for Cards. Poker "Chips," Etc.

Special to the Journal.

SACRAMENTO, May 12.—A controversy has arisen between the State Board of Examiners, consisting of the Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney General, and the Supreme Court Justices and officers. The Examiners have questioned bills sent in by the Supreme Court for their late trip to Los Angeles. Chief Justice Beatty and Justice Patterson's bills were cut down fifty cents each, Justice Harrison $4, Justice Sharpstein $2 and those of the Court attaches from fifty cents to $2. Secretary of State Waite, by whose authority the reductions were made, stated to a Bee reporter that the Board of Examiners was responsible.

There are 240 State officers, and some check had to be placed upon them in the matter of expenses, or the Board of Examiners might as well be abolished.

He did not believe in even Supreme Court Justices charging "tips," given to palace car porters, to the State, and he did not think it right that secretaries or clerks, or bailiffs of even the Supreme Court, should, in traveling, engage an entire section of a sleeping car. In further proof that there must be some safeguard in such matters, Mr. Waite said that a few weeks ago a State official had charged for "three decks of playing cards and poker 'chips,'" and the Board excluded the item. Another official had charged for services for himself and assistant in Sacramento and it had developed that the "services" had consisted of the official's efforts to have lobbied through the Legislature an increased appropriation for his own benefit. He refused to even give the name of his assistant, and his claim was knocked out. In still another instance it was ascertained that a traveling official's "assistant," and for whom expenses were asked, was his own wife, who was taking a pleasure jaunt. Secretary Waite said that he was not inclined to criticize what previous Boards of Examiners have done, but he intimated that various boards and officials entitled to traveling expenses will have to be a little more careful in the future in sending in their claims.

The Charleston and the Itata. Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Up to the close of business hours no news was received at the Navy Department of the movements of the Charleston. The Itata started from San Diego last Wednesday evening, six days ago, and if pushed to the highest speed must be nearly out of coal, so she must soon put into port somewhere to replenish her bunkers. The Charleston is also probably nearly out of coal, and news from one or the other of the vessels may be expected very soon. Some comment is caused among the State Department people by the telegraphed statement that the Chilean insurgent cruiser Esmeralda is now at Acapulco. The fact that her presence in port is tolerated is regarded here by some officers as a quasi recognition by the Mexican Government of the insurgents as belligerents. If this recognition should take formal shape it might have important results for the insurgents, for under the neutrality laws their vessels would find an asylum in Mexican ports.

THE CHARLESTON IN HOT PURSUIT. CRRY OF MEXICO, May 12.—The Chilean steamer Itata is sailing under difficulty, and the U. S. warship is gaining on her. It is expected that the two will reach Acapulco within a few hours of each other.

Contraband Opium. Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—The steamer Australia which arrived to-day from Honolulu brings advices that the Yacht Halcyon, loaded with one million dollars worth of contraband opium, is on her way to this coast and is almost due here. The customs officers here will keep a look out for her.

Chief of Department of Foreign Affairs. Special to the Journal.

CHICAGO, May 12.—Hon. Thomas L. Waller, the First Vice President of the National World's Fair Commission, was today declared Chief of the Department of Foreign Affairs. Headquarters to be in London with branch bureaus in other European cities.

Forest Fires.

Special to the Journal.

HUNTINGTON, Pa., May 12.—Over 4,000 acres of valuable timber land are adrift in a radius of seven miles of this place and in distant parts of the county wood lands being swept away at an alarming rate. Mountain fires are beyond human control, and can only be extinguished by rainfall. The farmers in the whole burning district have sustained irreparable losses to fencing, and hundreds of acres of growing grain are ruined. Many farm buildings are threatened.

ELLENFONTE, Pa., May 12.—The damage done by forest fires raging throughout the country here was enormous. All along the Buffalo Run railroad the fire has burned miles and miles of fences, orchards and valuable standing and out timber. Much farm property has been destroyed. The losses will run into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Fourth Trial of L. A. Powell. Special to the Journal.

REDWOOD CITY, Cal., May 12.—The fourth trial of Llewellyn A. Powell for killing Ralph S. Smith, editor of the Times Gazette, over two years ago, began here to-day. Judge W. S. Larigan of San Jose presided. Powell had two previous trials in this county which resulted in disagreements. The case was then transferred to San Francisco at the request of the prosecution and a verdict of manslaughter secured. The Supreme Court decided that the transfer was illegal and remanded the case back here for trial. To-day out of a venire of seventy-five persons all but seventeen were discharged for cause and no peremptory challenges have been given by either side. It is probable that only two or three jurors will be secured from this panel.

The Robert and Minnie Case. Special to the Journal.

LOS ANGELES, May 12.—U. S. Solicitor General Taft has been closeted with Attorney Cole and Marshal Gard to-day. Bart and O'Farrell expect bondsmen to arrive from San Francisco to-morrow. The sailors are in jail here and as yet no one has given bonds for them. The examination of all parties in the Robert and Minnie case has been set for next Tuesday morning.

The Wounds of the Czarewitch are Severe. Special to the Journal.

YOKOHAMA, May 12.—According to advices received here in regard to the murderous attack made upon the Czarewitch the wounds are of a more severe nature than was at first supposed. Full particulars as to the affair are anxiously expected here.

The utmost regret at the occurrence is expressed in Government and diplomatic circles.

Entered for Repairs. Special to the Journal.

VICTORIA, B. C., May 12.—The gunboat Pinta arrived from Alaska to-day and entered the Esquimalt dry dock for general repairs.

The steamer Danube arrived from the north to-day bringing the crew of the sealing schooner Adele which was wrecked on a small island April 8th. The Adele is the schooner which raided the seal rookeries last year, and was valued at $5,000.

Ex-Governor Waterman's Will Filed. Special to the Journal.

SAN DIEGO, May 12.—The will of the late ex-Governor Waterman was filed here for probate to-day. The will is dated October 10, 1883, and bequeaths his whole estate to his wife, who is appointed executrix without bonds. The will states that he omitted to provide for his children as he had full confidence in the judgment and business ability of his wife.

Charges Dismissed. Special to the Journal.

NEVADA CITY, Cal., May 12.—The information charging Sheriff George W. Dunster with being disqualified by intoxication for the discharge of official duties was today dismissed in the Superior Court on the grounds that the Justice of the Peace who bound Dunster over for trial had no jurisdiction.

The Indians and Lagrippe. Special to the Journal.

SPRINGFIELD, May 12.—The Indians in the Okanogan country are in a state of consternation owing to the prevalence of lagrippe among them. One hundred or more have died. The Indians are moving out rapidly for Idaho and other points, carrying all their possessions with them.

The sponge reproduces its kind mainly by eggs. In each animal are contained both the male and the female elements, and it throws out the ova to be hatched in the water. At first the young are free swimming, and afterward they attach themselves to convenient spots and grow.

Primarily, sagacious dogs seemed to have had their origin in southern Europe, the fighting dogs in Asia and the swift running dogs, like the greyhound, among the Celtic nations. Nevertheless, there is no doubt that the mastiff, which is a fighter, is of British origin.

When a blood vessel is severed or cut in the arm or leg a tourniquet should be made of a handkerchief with a knot in it, tightly twisted so that the knot covers the artery or main blood vessel. When the blood stops flowing the pressure should cease.

For nearly two centuries in England only the kings were allowed to use forks. Their subjects had to keep on eating pie with their fingers. Queen Elizabeth had a jeweled fork, and we are told that her favorite breakfast was "a pie of goose."

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy—sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses of Hood's Sarsaparilla are equal to one of the other blood purifiers." Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad. No other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity, and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly. Richard J. Jose

RICHARD J. JOSE, of whom the above is a good likeness, was born at Redruth, Cornwall, England, in 1865. He came to Reno in 1878, and resided with his cousin, W. J. Luke. Miss Eva Quaille recognized the natural musical ability of the youth, and from that accomplished lady he received his early musical education. He is one of a family of singers and his sister Emily is now leader of the choir at the Truro, Cornwall, Cathedral. His first engagement as a vocalist was with Reed's minstrels in San Francisco. He then joined Birch & Cotton's minstrels and after a season with them went to New York under a two years' engagement with Dockstadter's minstrels. He then sang with the "Old Homestead" Company, and at present is filling an engagement with Thatcher's minstrels. He has entered into an engagement to sing six nights in London and Liverpool next August and will leave New York on the 22d of July on the steamship "City of Paris." When he visits the old folks and the scenes of his childhood he will return to New York and appear with Thatcher, Rich & Harris' musical face-comedy company in "Tuxedo," until the World's Fair at Chicago, when he will join Thompson's "Old Homestead" Company again and remain with them during the Columbian Exposition.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

The World Enriched.
The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited, and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring-time or, in fact, at any time, and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

A man who has practiced medicine for 40 years, ought to know salt from sugar; read what he says:

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 10, 1887.
Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions. Yours truly,

L. L. Gonsuon, M. D.,
Office, 215 Summit St.
We will give $100 for any case of catarrh that cannot be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. Taken internally.

And, in accordance with law and an order of the Board of Trustees, made on the 19th day of December, 1890, so many shares of each parcel of said
stock as may be necessary, will be sold at public auction by the Secretary, at his office and the company at Reno, Nevada, on the 19th day of February, 1891, at 2 o'clock P. M. of that day, to pay said delinquent assessments, costs of advertising and expenses of sale.
By order of the Board of Trustees.
T. V. JULIEN, Secretary.
Reno, Nevada, January 10, 1891.

The above sale is postponed until March 12,
1891, at the same hour and place.
By order of the Board.
T. V. JULIEN, Secretary.
Reno, Nevada, March 12, 1891.

The above sale is hereby postponed until Monday, April 13, 1891, at the same hour and place.

T. V. JULIEN, Secretary.
Reno, Nevada, March 12, 1891.

The above sale is hereby postponed until May 25th, at the same hour and place.
By order of the Board of Trustees.
T. V. JULIEN, Secretary.
Reno, April 27, 1891.

SUMMONS.
IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE STATE
of Nevada, in and for Washoe County.
The State of Nevada sends to Mary O. Carroll, greeting.
You are hereby required to appear in said court, to be held at the District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe, and answer the complaint which is on file in said court, and to show cause why you should not be held responsible for the service on you of this summons (exclusive of day of service), if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but without district, and in all other cases forty days, or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The action is brought to recover a judgment and decree of divorce, forever dissolving the bonds of matrimony
now existing between you, the said Mary O. Carroll, and the said William H. Carroll, and decreing that there is no community property to be adjudicated and that the property of which he is now owner is his own separate property.
The said action is brought on the ground of desertion of him on your part for a period of more than one year last past prior to the commencement of this action. All of which will more fully appear from the complaint which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court, at Reno, in said county, and to which you are especially referred.
And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded.
In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand at Reno, this 23rd day of March, A. D. 1891.
H. A. WALDO,
Attorney for Plaintiff.

Reno, April 21, 1891.

Principal place of business, Reno, in said county.
Notice is hereby given that the Board of Trustees of the above-named company, held on the 30th day of May, 1891, an assessment (No. 9) of seven and one half cents ($7.50) per share was levied on each share of the capital stock of the company, represented by each and every acre of land beneficially irrigated by the ditch, and which is located in the State of Nevada, to-wit: John B. Williams, Secretary and Treasurer at his office in the Court House, Reno, Nevada. Any stock upon which this assessment shall remain unpaid on the 1st day of June, 1891, will be sold at public auction, and the proceeds thereof applied to the payment of the assessment, and such proceedings as may be necessary will be had against the land benefited, and against the delinquent owner, to collect such delinquent assessment, together with the costs and expenses.
By order of the Board of Trustees.
JOHN B. WILLIAMS, Secretary.
Reno, May 4, 1891.

A PAIR OF PET LIONS.
ANTICS OF THE TERRORS OF THE FOREST THAT ARE AMUSING.
They Were More Playful Than Kittens.
Seemed to Have a Human Love for Fun—They Played Havoc, However,
with Tame Animals at First.
Previous to making up country trips
in South Africa I always laid in a supply of calico dresses and pound packages of tea to serve as presents for the wives of the Boers in the outlying districts.
Tea is used by them only in cases of sickness, and the donation of a calico dress is always met by an interchange of dairy and hen roost products. In one of my trips, while in the neighborhood of an old vrow, finding that the latter needed
replenishing, I jumped on my shooting pony and cantered over to her house,
followed by my Kaffir henchman "January," carrying a basket containing the tea and dress. The noise of my pony's hoofs on the sunbaked earth caught the old lady's ears, and she met me at the door with the explanation:
"I'm so glad you have come!"
"Why?"
"Because I have a pair of young lions for you."
"Where are they?"
"Knocking about the house somewhere."
I immediately dismounted, handing
the reins to January, started indoors,
and finally brought up in the kitchen,
where I found the whelps asleep on the hearth. On asking how they were captured she informed me that some two weeks previous her son had shot a lioness, and, finding her in milk, hunted around until he picked up the youngsters.
I immediately bargained for them with the understanding that they were to be given all the milk they would drink, not teased, and kept until my return, some three months ahead. The tea and dress were then produced, and January had to enlist the services of one of the farm Kaffirs to assist in carrying to the wagons
the butter and eggs which were received in exchange.
On my return I found the cubs had been partially weaned, which was fortunate, as it would have been impossible to get fresh milk for them daily. Taking them in my arms I started toward my cart, which had been driven up in front of the house, for the purpose of throwing them on my bed; but the oxen bolted on catching scent of them, and it required
a deal of patience before they would allow them to be loaded.
On coming up with my train of wagons, loaded with antelope, guns, etc., the cart was prudently kept some distance in the rear, for fear of a stampede of the teams, and it was fully a week before the oxen became thoroughly accustomed to lion odor.
The whelps would pass the time while travelling lolling about on my bed, which I shared with them at night, but as soon as we stopped and the oxen were turned loose for grazing their heads would be thrust out from the front of the cart waiting to be lifted out, so that they could have their customary game of romps with the dogs and myself.
We had reached the more thickly settled portion of the country when one day, just as we were outspanning, a couple of young Boers cantered up to the wagons, one of whom carried a fine chacma seated behind him. On dis-mounting the reins were handed to the baboon, who had seated himself just in front of the horses, and I started for the cart in search of the "square rigger"—
i. e., gin flask—in order to pave the way
to purchasing the baboon.
On reaching it the heads of both whelps appeared, expecting to be lifted out, as was customary. On catching sight of them the baboon gave a scream,
the horses a snort of terror, and each one
took a separate path across the veldt,
followed by a pair of blaspheming Boers.
I saved my gin, but lost the chance of buying a fine chacma, and sulkily refused to join in the usual frolic.
The trip home was made without further incident, and on arriving the youngsters were allowed the run of the house,
but at night they would persist in sharing my bed with me. After having been nearly smothered by a trick which they had of lying across my face, I finally compromised matters by arranging a cot
alongside my bed with a stout wire screen intervening.
Of course the arrival of the young lions was soon noised about, and I did not lack company, especially on Sunday afternoons, when my establishment resembled a miniature zoological garden, and the female whelp seemed to select just such occasions to play pranks on the bipeds of her own sex.
Her favorite ambush was under the table of the dining room, the door of which opened on the passageway through the house. So long as males passed she would remain quiet, but as sure as a single female or a party of them attempted to pass through she would spring out and crouch just in front of them, invariably causing a hasty retrograde movement, accompanied by a series of screams. Once, while in the rear, giving some directions to the Kaffirs, I was startled by a piercing shriek, and turned just in time to see a frightened female dart out of the back door and come at racing speed toward me. In so doing she had to pass directly under a tree in which was chained a baboon.
So soon as she was fairly under it
the brute dropped on to her shoulders, whisked off her bonnet and wrap and was up on his perch in a jiffy. She dropped in a dead faint, and before I could dash some water into her face, and bring her to her senses the bonnet and wrap were torn into shreds, and on looking toward the house I saw the head of the lioness lying over the doormat, seemingly enjoying the mischief she had wrought.—Forest and Stream.
